graph LR; main[main] --> func[final_project::pde::Heat_3D::SetHeatInitC];

The diagram illustrates a function call. A white rectangular box on the left contains the text 'main'. A blue arrow points from the right side of this box to a larger, gray rectangular box on the right. Inside the gray box, the text 'final_project::pde' is on the top line, and '::Heat_3D::SetHeatInitC' is on the bottom line.
